The Benefits of Composite Fillings

Amalgam fillings, made from a silver-colored mix of powdered metals and liquid mercury, have been used to replace millions of cavities. However, composite fillings, made from a tooth-colored mix of glass and resin, have become the norm for a variety of reasons.

The most obvious reason composite fillings are more popular is because they’re made to match natural tooth color. They’re also complete by the time one leaves the dental chair, unlike amalgam, which can take up to 24 hours to fully harden.

Another advantage of composite fillings is their lack of mercury. Though several federal agencies have declared amalgam fillings safe, some patients and providers are still concerned about possible health and environmental effects.

For all of these reasons, Dr. Tao Sun uses only composite material for fillings. If your amalgam fillings are damaged and need replaced, or you need a new filling, call 760-810-7297 to schedule an appointment.
